Introduction

On June 29, 2025, Minneapolis Hard Red Spring Wheat (HRSW) Futures, the flagship product of the MIAX Futures Exchange (formerly Minneapolis Grain Exchange), will be migrating from CME to the newly developed Onyx platform of MIAX.

This guide provides an overview of trading these contracts on TT®.

New Market on TT

A new market MIAX_FUTURES_CHICAGO will be added on TT to support trading on these contracts.

Product and Instrument Details

These Minneapolis HRSW Futures will be available under the product symbol MWE on TT with contract months of March, May, July, September and December. Further details on these contracts can be found at the following link: Minneapolis HRSW Contract Specifications

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. What will be the session schedule in the UAT environment?
  - a. In the UAT environment, the MIAX Futures session will be in Pre Open from 4 PM ET to 4:15 PM ET Sunday to Thursday. The session will open at 4:15 PM ET Sunday to Thursday, and will close at 1:30 PM ET on the next day.
2. What notifications / messages will be received for expired orders?
  - a. The exchange does not currently send any cancellations for expired orders, and hence no cancel messages will be available in TT at EOD (i.e. when the session closes at 1:30 PM ET). The expired orders will get purged from TT when the TT session starts for the next date at 4:00 PM on Sunday / 4:45 PM Monday to Thursday.
    - i. Exchange has agreed to consider sending cancellations for expired orders at EOD, and will make changes at their end. This will not be available for Day 1 of the Go Live on 29 Jun 2025. Since exchange will add this logic at their end, similar logic to handle such a scenario will not be built on TT.
3. Is Cancel on Disconnect supported on TT for MIAX Futures?
  - a. While MIAX Futures supports Cancel on Disconnect, this is not configurable through the FIX API messages, and hence the support on TT will be limited to processing the cancellation / execution messages received from the exchange in the event of a disconnection.
